Blaine was a candidate. Will Not Retire from Practice. CLEVELAND, O., May 18.-Hon. C. W. Fairbanks, of Indianapolis, who is a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Voorhees, was in Cleveland to-day on business. Speaking of the recent announcement to the effect that General Harrison had decided to retire from the practice of the law, Mr. Fairbanks said it grew out of a misapprehension. The General had been engaged in a jury trial in the Wayne county court and had remarked that it was his first trial of that kind there and t might be his last. That was all the foundation there was for the story that General Harrison had decided to retire from the law in order that he might look after his presidential fences. Mr. Fairbanks was chary about talking politics. He said he believed McKinley was a very formida-ble candidate for the presidency, and so far as Harrison was concerned, it was very difficult to find where he stands, as no-body knows his attitude toward the nomin-

HIS REQUEST DENIED

GOVERNOR O'FERRALL REBUFFE BY GOVERNOR M'CORKLE.

Latter Refused to Permit the Troops of Virginia to Invade West Virginia-Pocahontas Trouble.

RICHMOND, Va., May 18.-Governor

O'Farrall, in a lengthy statement regard to the causes that led up to the ending of military to the coal region in the southwest of this State, reviews the whole situation and says: "On May 1, I wired Governor McCorkle, stating that there might be necessity for me to send troops to Pocahontas and asking him for authority to pass them through his State. He replied immediately as follows: "Authority is hereby given the State of Virginia to move troops armed and equipped through the State of West Virginia until further orders.' He followed that with telegram asking me for authority to pass troops through Virgina, in case he desired to send them. I replied as follows: "The State of West Virginia is hereby authorized to move troops armed and equipped through the State of Virginia, until further orders.' Information continued to reach me that the situation was threatening and critical. I communicated again with the sheriff and on May 3, received the following telegram from him: 'Have just returned from Elk-horn. Everything quiet there, also in Poca-hontas as yet. The strikers from West Virginia mines propose to have public meeting here Sunday. I cannot foresee results at this time. I am fearful of trouble. I will wire you again if anything transpires." "Upon the receipt of this telegram I determined to send auxiliary force to pre-serve order and law men and rifle pieces and Gatling gun were sent under the command of Major William Simons, with orders to stop at Graham, seven miles east of Pocahontas, a few yards beyond the Virginia line, and believing that they were threatening the peace of Virginia, he asked me the question if there were any cir-cumstances under which he would be justifled in acting beyond the State confines. At 6:45 that evening I wired Governor Mc-Corkle, stating that I had received a telegram from the commander of the Virginia troops to the effect just stated. He said: 'It does seem to present a question of self-defense, and in my opinion, neither of us should stick in the bark of State rights. I know this is an important question and both of us should act cautiously, but as you have no troops on the ground, until you can send troops there, will you authorize me in case of threatened violence, and for a distance of two miles from the border for, say three days, to act just as though meetings were held in Virginia? I would be willing to grant such authority under similar circumstances to you, and thus act in unison with you, as suggested in your message of 1st instant." "About 11 o'clock that night I received the following reply from Governor McCor-kle: 'Section 16, article 3, of our Constitution provides the right of the people to assemble in peaceable manner, to consult for the common good, instruct their representa-tives or apply for redress of grievances, shall be held inviolable. In view of the grave constitutional question thus involved, will have to ask you to wait until we can examine carefully. We are expecting call for troops, and have them ready to move. We will cherfully co-operate with you in any possible way to preserve the peace. We have received no report as yet of any violence or disorder in this State. I will try to answer your question and request by morning.' On the reading of this telegram I felt that he had made a mistaké, for I had no intention to interpret the meaning that way. The provision of the Constitution of West Virginia which he loted is an inherent law in our system of government. I had reference to meetings which threatened the whole State. "At 2:15 a. m. on May 6 I received the following from Governor McCorkle: 'After most carefully considering the question I regret exceedingly that I cannot consent to your troops entering West Virginia to exercise any military functions. Should it become necessary for me to send troops I will cheerfully co-operate with you wher-

Lindsay and McCutcheon signed the scale for the Keystone mill, but did not take action on the rate in the Porkhouse mill. The American Tube and Iron Company of New York to-day advanced the unskilled men in the Youngstown, O., plant 10 per cent., and the skilled men 12/2 per cent. FRAUD ALLEGED.

Charges Against Promoters of the Columbia Straw Paper Company.

CHICAGO, May #18 .- A sensational cross bill to foreclose the property of the Columbia Straw Paper Company was filed to-day by Otto Gresham, representing a number of the owners of the thirty-five mills comprising the concern. The bill charges fraud in connection with a million-dollar bond issue of the company for which the Northern Trust Company is trustee. It charges that the promoters of the combine never paid any money into the pool, that they received options on the property of the company without consideration; that the options were given to one of the promoters without consideration and were in turn sold by him to the other promoters. The document declares that the owners of the various plants were paid largely in stocks, and that $2,000,000 of stocks was divided among the promoters. It is also charged that the $1,000,000 of bonds were sold by the promoters to themselves. The Bill asks that the promoters be compelled to pay the $2,000,000 stock sold by them. It is alleged that the effort to foreclose is a scheme to defraud the former owners of the property and leave the profits to the The defendants named are: E. Stein, Chtcago; E. G. Clark, P. D. Hohman, of this city, is at the head of the new association. Close Finishes at Gravesend. NEW YORK, May 18 .- Not more than ,000 people witnessed the races to-day at Gravesend, a cold, threatening morning having a deterrent influence on pleasureseekers. There were several close finishes and interesting races, although the stake events were processions. The upset of the day was in the third event, when four three-year-olds were sent for a mile and a sixteenth, with Tinge an odds-on favorite and Paladin a strong second choice. Langdon was the rank outsider, no one caring to have anything to do with him. 'He was back in fourth place till the stretch, when he came with a rush and won by a head from Paladin, while Tinge had to give it up, the distance being too long. There was much interest in the Carleton stakes, for Counter Tenor, Waltzer and Sir Galahad were evenly matched last year. Waltzer rushed into the lead, but he only for a quarter of a mile, when the great sweeping strides of Counter Tenor carried him to the front and he stayed there, winning under a heavy pull. and Sir Galahad had a hard fight for third place, the latter getting it. Hazlet was heavily backed to win the Hudson stakes, but McCafferty's Applegate took the lead from the fall of the flag and won easily. P. J. Dwyer's Axiom, of whom something was expected ran very badly. In the opening race, Ajax was made the favorite over a sorry lot and he only succeeded in winning by a head from Long Beach. Fifteen maiden two-year-olds were in the sixth race. The start was a bad one for the favorite, Abuse, and Penn rode him desperately, but could only get second place. The Belmont filly Refuge got off none too well, but soon secured a commanding lead which she held to the end, winning by half a length. Sum-

Big Crowd at St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, May 18.—Beautiful weather and a good card attracted 20,000 to the Fair Association park to-day to witness seven rattling good events. Society was numerously represented. The track was slow. The chief event of interest was the fifth race in which there were thirteen entries, a silver pitcher being the trophy. On reaching the post, Audiphone with Aleer up and No Remarks, the favorite, with Mcup, ran away. No Remarks was stopped after the first round, but Audiphone covered the circult three times before he could be stopped and was then led off the track jaded. The race was an exciting one and the finish close between Cunarder, who had led all the way. Knickerbocker and Major Dripps finished as named. The third race, the Street Railway stakes, value $2,000, was a dump. The Kendall entry, Urania and Handspun, was a hot favorite at 4 to 5, but never showed. Cash Sloan, on Lily of the West, got away badly and at the half was twenty lengths behind. At the three-quarters he was ten lengths behind and on entering the stretch In the stretch Lily of the West responded nobly, shooting past bunch and up among the lead-coming in second in a rush behind

LONDON, May 18 .- The events of the week in sporting circles has not increased the popularity here of Mr. Michael F. Dwyer, or Mr. Richard Croker. Even the colored jackey, Simms, has come in for a share of criticism. The Globe, commenting on the riding of the American jockey, said yesterday: "His monkey antics are foreign to our insular prejudices. He kept teasing his mount and then sending him along to the leaders over and over again on Thursday, but we must admit that when he had to sit down he showed us what he could do. In an exciting finish he has proven equal to the occasion." The most serious accusation which the papers make is that these pretenses of being beaten were simply meant to influence betting during the race, and that the Americans succeeded in get-ting a large amount in this way.

Must Not Attend Races. ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 18 .- President William H. Thompson, of the Bank of Commerce, has issued a peremptory order forbidding any and every employe of the Bank of Commerce from attending horse races under penalty of dismissal. Blanks' Capitalists, and Says "Lendlords" Must Be Done Away With-Duty of Ministers.

NEW YORK, May 18.-Father Ducey, pastor of St. Leo's, whose troubles with Archbishop Corrigan have been frequently before the public, was the principal orator at a celebration to-night by the Bakers' International Union of the passage of a State law to make bakeries sanitary and to make a baker's work day ten hours. Speaking to the workmen, Father Ducey said:

"You have accomplished a great work in favor of all labor by having placed on the statute books a humane law. Now you must insist on its enforcement. Do it by hanging together. Fight at the polls against every corrupt organization that prostitutes all that is best in the laboring masses in than twenty years corrupt money has influenced elections and ground honest workingmen into the ground, and the people have been such fools that they cannot see that if they hang together honest labor will win. All churches, Catholic and Protestant, must help, and you must make them do it We know what the enormous fortunes of individuals, what the poverty of the masses means. You will all agree that some remedy must be found, and quickly, too, for the misery and helplessness of the poor.' Again he said: "You can damn the President of the United States if you are a Republican; you can damn Cleveland, and if you are a Democrat you can damn Harrison, and be all right; but if you damn a railroad president, you are an Anarchist, You will be called a Socialist, a disorderly and dangerous person, if you speak against a capitalist. These men can steal because they steal inside the limit of the law, but if you kick you are guilty of crime, because you fight for your homes. Do you tumble to that? Ministers must take a hand now and interfere, as the men whom Christ died for are having their lives crushed out of them. If the signs of the times are read you will see we must do away with the landlerds and the 'lendlords'—by the later I mean those who take from you by extortionate rates of interest what little you have got together. We must have men in power who are capable of preventing bartering away men and women for money. It has been said 'men are cheaper than shingles; that f one man dies there are ten to fill his place. Let me tell you tout if they keep on talking like that you and I will in our time see such a revolution as will eclipse the one that disrupted France. "Keep together, fight with law and order on your side and you can kill all the lobbying at Albany and the extortion of the Standard Oil Company, the Sugar Trust and the beef trust, those infamous organiza-tions that use hard times to squeeze millions out of the poor people.

BOSTON, May 18.-The decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of the American Bell Telephone Company et al., appellant, vs. the United States, appellee, was filed with the clerk of the court this afternoon. It reverses the decree of Judge Carpenter, declaring the Berliner telephone patent invalid, and is a victory for the American Bell company. The decree practically concedes to the Bell company the monopoly of the microphone

ANTI-REVOLUTION AND TAX BILLS TO BE DROPPED.

Herr Von Koeller Likely to Resign-Rubenstein's Sacred Opera to Be Given at Bremen Saturday.

(Copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.) BERLIN, May 18.-Things are once more in a chaotic condition in Germany. The two chief government bills-the anti-revolution bill and tobacco tax measure-have been crushingly defeated, and there is no talk of substitute measures. It is an open secret that the views of the Chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, and the Prussian Minister of the Interior, Herr Von Koeller, clash on most subjects of importance, and the existing situation cannot endure. The latter's position is so shaken that his tenure of office may end at any time. Hohenlohe, who has been much worried for months past, offered his resignation immediately after the defeat of the anti-revolution bill, but he was persuaded to remain office on the urgent solicitation of the Emperor and his own family. Herr Yon Koeller's handling of the anti-revolution bill is condemned on all sides; but he has displayed a total disregard of the dissatisfaction and in fact strongly urged before the Council of State another antirevolution bill directed particularly at Socialists. Prince Hohenlohe quietly disproved his argument, and showed the futility of continuing the fight in the present Reichstag. The Chancellor was supported in his contention by Dr. Miquel, the Minister of Finance; Baron Marschall Von Bieberstein, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Dr. Von Boetticher, the Imperial Secretary of State for the Interior; while Dr. Schoenstodt, the Minister of Justice, sided with Herr Von Koeller. Prince Hohenlohe's views also met with favor in the Bundesrath, with the result that no new antirevolution bill or tobacco tax bill will be introduced and an early close of the Reichstag session is therefore expected. According to anticipations the Reichstag will adjourn at the end of the month. Members of the Center party to-day in-troduced a motion in the lower house of the Prussian Diet for the restoration of the clause of the Constitution in relation to the Christian Church which was repealed in 1869; but only the Poles supported it. The speakers of the remainder of the parties declared themselves in opposition to the motion and declined to enter into its discussion. Thereupon the bill was put to a vote and was rejected. Owing to the increase in the price of, petroleum, inventors are busy throughout Germany trying to discover substitutes for petroleum, and one new lamp, in which raw alcohol is used to feed an incandescent lamp, is being tested with the view of replacing the petroleum lamp. Emperor William personally witnessed a series of experiments with this lamp at the new palace at Potsdam and pronounced the apparatus to be calculated to achieve the desired result. He also expressed the opin-ion that it would become the lamp of the hour, being both cheaper and better than the petroleum lamp. Count Von Kotze, on the personal order of the Emperor, has called off all the re-maining duels he intended to fight against his alleged traducers. Von Kotze will be remembered as the master of court ceremonies who was arrested and subsequently released after having been suspected of being the author of the anonymous letters that caused so much trouble in high court circles for years.

A big musical festival will occur at Brunswick from June 12 to June 16, with Mettl, Strauss, D'Albert and Riedel as the directors. Both chamber and orchestra music will be performed. The imperial marquee at Holtenau, in which the gala banquet will be given on the evening of June 21 will be a gigantic affair. It will measure 120 yards in length and will be twenty-three yards wide. This magnificent tent will accommodate a thousand guests, who will be seated at six tables. It will be an exact reproduction of the German frigate Niobe and the masts and rigging of that vessel will be utilized On Saturday next, at Bremen, will occur the first stage performance of "Christmas," Rubenstein's sacred opera. The work is in seven scenes and an epilogue, the Bible story being adhered to throughout. The treatment is reverential and applause will be strictly forbidden. The first tableau represents the desert when Satan tempts the Savior, and, from time to time, the back of the scene will open and display a series of lofty castles, beautiful palaces, luxurious gardens and mountains of gold, etc., in brief, showing the riches of the earth. The second scene represents the river of Jordan. St. John the Baptist is preaching and the Baptism of Jesus takes place. The scenery is painted from sketches made in Palestine by Herr Handries and will be personally arranged by the author of the libretto, Professor Bulthaupt. The same treatment will be observed in the scene of the Sermon on the Mount, and also in the miracle of the loaves and fishes. This forms the third tableau. The fourth tableau depicts the expulsion of the money changers from the temple and the fifth shows the garden of Gethsemene, in which the last supper is held. The trial of Jesus forms the sixth tableau, the prison being on one side of the picture and the steps of Pilate's palace in the foreground. The crucifixion forms the last tableau, watched by Satan and his devils from a subterranean vault while a vision of angels is shown from an opening in the heavens. The epilogue is formed by the proclamation of the gospel to the gentiles by St. Paul. The epidemic of influenza which has so long made Berliners suffer, is at last dead. MACEO'S DEFEAT.

Details of the Spanish Victory Over Cuban Rebels at Jovito. HAVANA, Cuba, May 18.-The engagement at Jovito affords a good example of the methods of fighting which the Cuban insurgents have adopted. The combined bands of Periquito, Perez, Miro, Bonne, Cartagena and Garzon lay in ambush in the woods and suddenly attacked Lieutenant Colonel Bosch, on the march with a part of his regiment, the "fighting Simancas." Lieutenant Colonel Bosch, the surgeon and another officer at the head of the column fell at the first fire. Then the Spanish soldiers, under Major Robles's orders, got in cover and firing was kept up all day. The insurgents did not disclose themselves, but shot from shelter whenever they could see the suggestion of a soldier. The position chosen by General Maceo was strong and he was able to place his vastly superior force in secure cover. General Maceo had as many followers as were with him two days previously and certainly 2,000 men. The Spanish authorities assert that he actually had 3,000. The portion of the Simancas regiment with Lieutenant Colonel Bosch, the same authorities say, numbered four hundred only. After desultory firing had continued the entire day, a detachment of volunteer cavalry, formed in Guantanamo by Major Garrido, made a vigorous attack the insurgents, striking them on the flank. This disconcerted General Maceo's men. The Cubans seemed unable to meet a sudden change in the situation. This was shown at Cristo, when the pilot engine ahead of a train with soldiers upset the insurgent plan of attack. Major Garrido's squadron drove the insurgents from their sheltered position inflicting a considerable loss. The number of killed is uncertain. A Spanish regiment from Porto Rico which has just arrived at Santiago, was dispatched in haste to Guantanamo. Maceo's men, it is said, probably have changed their base. The loss of Lieutenant Colonel Bosch is unfortunate for the Spaniards. The stories circulated in regard to the prevalence of yellow fever among the troops operating here against the insurgents are greatly exaggerated. According to the official records, there were only 27 deaths there reported up to yesterday, although 200 soldiers have been treated in the different hospitals for various diseases.

Colonel Salicido has had more engage-Colonel Salicido has nad more engage-ments with the rebels. At Camagazan and Holguin he dispersed the insurgents shortly after opening fire on them, and at Canasi four rebels were killed and the rebel chief, Angel Guerra, was wounded. Britannia Defeats Ailsa Again. GRAVESEND, Eng., May 18 .- Ailsa and Brittannia started again at 11:45 o'clock this morning in a race for prizes offered by the Royal Thames Yacht Club. The course was the same as yesterday, from Gravesend to and around the buoy beyond South End, and back here, a total distance of about fifty miles. Both yachts carried club topsails, and although the Britannia got away in the weather berth, Allsa soon had a lead of ten seconds. Britannia, however, which was beautifully handled, crent up to Ailsa and, passing South End, she had left Mr. Walker's cutter far behind. Britannia led around the Mouse light ship and, passing South End on the return, she was fifty-eight seconds ahead of Ailsa. Britannia won by two minutes and thirty Japan Will Not Yield Further. SHANGHAI, May 18.-It is stated that China has asked Japan for an extension of the time in which the former country is to hand over the island of Formosa to the Japanese, pending a consideration of further proposals. Japan, it is added, has declined the proposition.

YOKOHAMA, May 18.-Prince Kematsu, commander in chief of the Japanese armies, has left Port Arthur and returned to Japan. Only two of the seven divisions of the Japanese army on the Liao-Tung peninsuta will remain there. The other five divisions will return to Japan shortly. Cardinal Gibbons Expected to Soon Sail for Rome-Satolli's Plans.

WASHINGTON, May 18.-Bishop Montes-deoca, of the Mexican diocese of St. Louis de Potosi, who has been visiting Mgr.

Satolli, has departed for Rome. It is stated that Cardinal Gibbons's visit to Rome, which will follow his present visit to Boston, will have no significance on any of the pending ecclesiastical questions, although it is expected that he will discuss with the Pope the entire range of church affairs as developed since the Cardinal's last visit ten years ago. Mgr. Satolli will remain in Washington through the summer, although he has made several engagements to attend church celebrations. The opening of the Northwestern Educational Institute, in which Archbishop Ireland has been foremost, has been postponed from June until September, at which time Mgr.

Satolli will be present. The speculation concerning Mgr. Satolli's elevation to the cardinalate has brought out the fact that it is an invariable rule of the Vatican to advance a delegate to a cardinalate. The latter office may be filled by a nuncio, and this fact has been the basis of reports that Mgr. Satolli would be made nuncio at Lisbon. There has been no intimation, direct or indirect, from the Vatican that this would be done, and there is less reason for as the present nuncio there has several years to serve, and is himself likely to be
